Dear Dr. Sawitri:

Thank you for submitting your revised paper "Adolescent-Parent Career Congruence as a Predictor of Job Search Preparatory Behaviours: The Role of Proactivity" for consideration for publication the JCD special issue on the school-to-work transition.

I have reviewed your revision and find that you have successfully addressed all remaining issues. We are therefore happy to accept your paper. Your paper will make a solid contribution to the special issue and I would like to congratulate you on your work.

In terms of process, we are still reviewing papers for the special issue as some papers are still in the review process. However, we have decided to already accept the papers which we think are ready for publication. Once we have accepted (or rejected) all remaining papers in the process, we will finalize the special issue with all finally accepted papers. However, your paper can already become available online before that happens, which will help to give it more early visibility. The JCD editorial team will contact you for these further processes.

From our side, we will get in touch again once we have finalized all papers for the special issue and I would like to as you for your patience. Once again, thank you for your valuable contribution to the special issue and I am looking forward to seeing all papers in print.

Sincerely,
Prof. Andreas Hirschi, Ph.D.
