Dear Santy Paulla,

Thank you for the recent submission of your article Revealing The Community's Capacity for Applying Rain Water Harvesting in Semarang Coastal Areas.

We would like to let you know about an additional option to further increase the visibility and impact of your research if you have prepared or could prepare maps or spatial diagrams based on your work. You can submit these to Journal of Maps, which publishes maps and spatial diagrams across the broad spectrum of physical and social sciences. The journal is peer-reviewed, and articles are published open access.

Please note that any submission to Journal of Maps will be treated as an independent submission and will have no bearing on the peer review process for your current article.

Dear Dr Dewi:

Ref: Revealing Community Capacity for Applying Rain Water Harvesting in Semarang Coastal Areas

We are pleased to accept your paper in its current form which will now be forwarded to the publisher for copy editing and typesetting.

You will receive proofs for checking, and instructions for transfer of copyright in due course.

The publisher also requests that proofs are checked and returned within 48 hours of receipt.

Attached you will find a pdf about video abstracts. They offer authors an alternative way of engaging with their audience. They are useful as a promotional tool and could help readers to grasp the concept of the research more quickly and easily. Video and multimedia content is increasing in its popularity and use across academia and the world of practice. Submitting a video abstract can be a great way to raise the online profile of your paper. If you are interested please let the Editor in Chief know that you intend to do this, and follow the Guidelines closely.

Thank you for your contribution to Local Environment and we look forward to receiving further submissions from you.

Further the reach of your article via social media: <http://journalauthors.tandf.co.uk/pdfs/socialmedia-infographic.pdf>

Sincerely,
Professor Michelle Thompson-Fawcett
