Dear Muflihatul Muniroh

Thanks for being registered with Science Alert Online Manuscript Submission and Peer Reviewed System.

Science Alert integrated with the liveDNA to accurately identify and disambiguated all authors of all articles in Science alert Database.

LiveDNA is dedicated to provide a transparent and improvised tracking of the research and researcher by issuing each researcher a Numerological ID called his/her LiveDNA. It's one of the basic objective is to establish and develop strong relationship between research and researchers, contributors and the work. Having a LiveDNA will help the researcher in his/her manuscript submission, grant applications, professional society membership, to have association with other identifiers or profiles and to display it on CV, webpage and more. LiveDNA is devoted to the openness, transparency and the protection of scholars' privacy.

Therefore, please send us your CV to be the identified member of the Science Alert.

Regard
Science Alert
