Title: Critical issue in the identification of Down syndrome and its problems in Central-Java Indonesia: The fact of needing health care and better management

Dear Dr. Winarni and co-authors,

Thank you for submitting the manuscript mentioned above to Intractable & Rare Diseases Research.

Your manuscript has been fully evaluated, major revisions are suggested and the comments are listed below. Revision and response are necessary before the paper can be considered for further review.

When you revise your manuscript, please reply to the comments point-by-point in your cover letter. Please note that the response document should be formatted as follows: 1) quote the comment; 2) give your response, including the change made in the manuscript, 3) detail the location (page and paragraph in the revised manuscript) where the change may be found. Also, please underline or highlight all changes made in the text when you revise the manuscript.

When you resubmit your manuscript, please send the files (a revised manuscript and a cover letter with response to comments) via e-mail to our editorial office (office@irdrjournal.com) but not by on-line.

We look forward to receiving your revised manuscript within 3 weeks.

Sincerely,

Anne Taylor, Ph.D. _____

Comments:

1. Article Type: This article is submitted as an "Original Article", But there is a lack of in-depth analysis, especially statistical analysis. Thus, this article is suggested to be revised as a "Correspondence" to share your research findings and useful scientific information with other researchers.
 2. As a "Correspondence", it should not exceed 2,000 words in length (excluding References, Tables/Figures), and should be limited to a maximum of 2 figures and/or tables and 20 references.
 3. As a "Correspondence", the structure of full text is not "Introduction- Materials and Methods - Results- Conclusion". The authors are suggested to extract the important information of your research findings as the subtitle in the main text. Some published articles of "Correspondence" are listed below:
<https://irdrjournal.com/downloadpdf/2414>
<https://irdrjournal.com/downloadpdf/2495>
 4. Tables: Please confirm that all Tables are original ones made by the author for this article and have not been published previously. In the case of reuse of published same Table, permission of the copyright owner is required.
 5. Please indicate if this article has been posted on preprint platform.
 6. Please check that all acronyms are defined on first usage both in the abstract and the main text of the manuscript, unless the term is a well-known abbreviation (e.g. DNA).
